Raising the Bar

"Tattooed keg-tapper"
will discuss his crusade for clean water at Signature Series on March 18 @ Newport

Doc Hendley, a 2009 Top 10 CNN Hero, is living proof that anyone can change the world. Tens of thousands of people around the world have clean drinking water because of an idea that popped into the head of the bartender/musician.

Mr. Hendley's Wine to Water Foundation has dug, repaired and sanitized drinking wells for 150,000 people in 17 countries.

In his presentation, "Digging for Hope," Mr. Hendley will discuss his work and his book, Wine to Water: How One Man Saved Himself While Trying to Save the World, 7 pm Friday, March 18 @ Newport as part of the Library's Signature Series.

FOREWORD

Calling all Newport sports legends ... including YOU!

So what if you don't have a street in Newport named after you, like basketball Hall of Famer Dave Cowens. Your sports memories are still important. In fact, they might even belong in the Smithsonian. Really!

The Library has been awarded the Smithsonian Traveling Exhibition: Hometown Teams, which we will host April 29 - June 3, 2017, at our Newport Branch, but we need your help.

We're seeking images or objects related to outstanding/unique Newport sports teams & individual athletes. We're also interested in vintage home movies and film footage, which we can use to play on a continuous loop in the exhibition space for the public to see. We will consider old 8mm film that can be converted to DVD.

Each submission accepted for the exhibition will be credited to the owner and all original images, film and other items will be returned to the loaning party at the conclusion of the exhibition. If you happen to be from another part of the county and played for a rival of one of the Newport teams, you might have something to offer, as well. If you have a picture of yourself blocking Cowens' shot "back in the day," bring it on!

We would like to receive submissions as soon as possible. If you have something you think would be a nice addition to the exhibition, please contact Exhibit Coordinator Janet Arno by phone at 859-781-6166, ext. 28, or email jarno@cc-pl.org.

Before he was a Boston Celtic, Dave Cowens starred at Newport Catholic High (now Newport Central Catholic).

Mr. Hendley, inspired by the idea that he could use his skills at bartending and creating relationships with people to make a difference, began raising money at bars. He worked the best way he knew how — by pouring wine and playing music.

His foundation aims to help the 1.1 billion people worldwide who lack access to clean water.

Join us March 18 to learn more about Mr. Hendley's inspiring tale and the work he accomplished. An ASL interpreter will sign at the event and a book sale and signing by Mr. Hendley will follow the presentation. The event is free, but tickets must be requested in advance. Call 859-781-6166, ext. 31, or visit www.cc-pl.org/programs/signature-series.

The Library thanks Northern Kentucky University's First-Year Programs, along with Joseph-Beth Booksellers, Crestview Hills, and Comfort Suites Riverfront for their partnership.
