FRIENDS BOOK SALE BARGAINS ALL AROUND

What if you could buy great books for low prices and help fund the Library's many programs and efforts at the same time?

That's the idea behind the Friends of Campbell County Public Library Book Sale, which is held every other month in the lower level of the Newport Branch. The next book sale will be 9 am-5 pm Thursday, March 8, through Saturday, March 12.

Joyce Maegly

Friends board member Joyce Maegly is part of the team that works countless hours to make the book sales happen.

"Last week we sorted about 57 crates of donated books," Mrs. Maegly said, which is typical, given the volume of donations the Library receives.

Through the book sale, the Friends are able to provide funds for parades, the Summer Reading program and much more.

Exam proctoring: Yeah, we provide that too

We're here to help you continue your education. If you have an online exam that requires a proctor, we have librarians available who will provide that service for free.

We can proctor both online and pen-and-paper exams. We have meeting and study rooms. Public computers are available to help. Many students have used our proctoring services for midterm and final exams for their distance education classes. We can also proctor your professional license exams.

If you would like to take advantage of our services, call your branch.

STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS: BOOKS FOR A GOOD LAUGH

Hyperbole and a Half by Allie Brosh

My personal favorite parts: the hilarious stories involving her dogs. It's a super quick read and absolutely hilarious. — Danielle Turner, patron services assistant, Alexandria

Another vote for Hyperbole and a Half

Creator of the "___ ALL THE THINGS" meme collects several of her blog posts in this hilarious memoir about her childhood, nervous dogs and dealing with depression.

— Leah Byers, collections services assistant

All Creatures Great and Small by James Herriot

Story about the beauty of the Yorkshire Dales, the simplicity of farm life in England during the 1930s, and the foibles of three young vets and their animal clientele.

— Diane Katz, adult outreach librarian

Adulthood is a Myth by Sarah Andersen

This is an awesome collection of web comics full of hilariously relatable scenes that will leave every slightly anxious twenty-something saying "that is me!"

— Nina Frondorf, children's services programmer, Newport

The Indispensable Calvin and Hobbes by Bill Watterson

You gotta love Calvin.

— JC Morgan, director

Smoke Gets In Your Eyes by Caitlin Doughty

Doughty describes the pros and cons of being a mortician. She does it with humor and compassion. Check out her YouTube channel at Ask A Mortician.

— Cassie Fischer, information services assistant, Carrico/Fort Thomas

Is Everyone Hanging Out Without Me? by Mindy Kaling

If Mindy Kaling makes you laugh on TV, she will make you laugh with her book.

— Amy Carroll, adult teen services programmer, Cold Spring

Can You Keep a Secret? by Sophie Kinsella

Scared by plane turbulence, Emma spills all of her secrets to her seat-mate, only to find out later that he is the CEO of the company where she works.

— Maggie Gosney, patron services assistant, Cold Spring

I Feel Bad About My Neck by Nora Ephron

I loved her take on relationships and being a woman. It's good to be able to laugh about it all.

— Chantelle Bentley Phillips, Newport branch manager, assistant director

Dad is Fat by Jim Gaffigan

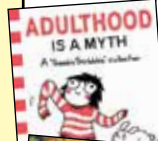

It was really funny but also touching when he discusses his family. Great casual read!

— Angela Kramer, patron services assistant, Carrico/Fort Thomas

Will Grayson, Will Grayson by John Green and David Levithan

This book makes you laugh and cry at the same time. It will leave you with a big smile on your face and an even bigger hole in your heart.

— Daneille Heiert, patron services assistant, Cold Spring

Food for Thought focuses on history of Mexican immigration

Dr. Robert Wilcox of the NKU History and Geography Department discusses the history of Mexican immigration to the United States 6:30 pm Tuesday, March 27, as part of the Food for Thought Lecture Series.

R. Wilcox

While current political debates have largely focused on undocumented immigrants, the history involves many contradictions, including officially sponsored immigration from Mexico and illegal American immigration to Mexico. This talk, titled "Braceros and 'Illegals': An Historical Reflection of Mexican Immigration to the United States," will address some of these historical complexities.

Friends Book Sale continued from cover

As for the book sale's bargain prices? Cost is 25 cents for paperbacks, 50 cents for hard covers and up to $2 for select titles. Some items are free.

Mrs. Maegly was in charge of the book sale for many years and now helps Friends Board Vice President Sue Crouch in the task. "We spend one day a week sorting donated books and then come in extra to purge, because there's no way we can keep them all," Mrs. Maegly said. "We make donations to Goodwill, schools, nursing homes. Anybody who asks we gladly give them books."

In 2013, Mrs. Maegly and her husband, Friends Board President Gene Maegly, received the Richardson/Conway Outstanding Library Volunteer Award by the Kentucky Public Libraries Association.

"He and I were very honored," Mrs. Maegly said.

Be a Friend

Mrs. Maegly encourages everyone who loves libraries to join the Friends, a nonprofit, equal-opportunity organization with 501c3 tax-exempt status. If you'd like to join, visit www.cc-pl.org/community/friends-of-the-campbell-county-public-library or stop by your nearby branch.
