Lucie Rice honors her hometown with this mural on display at Grassroots & Vine in Fort Thomas.

Home is where the ART is

Nashville illustrator to revisit her Fort Thomas roots at Art After Hours

Illustration artist Lucie Rice lives in Nashville now, but when you see the mural she created on display at Grassroots & Vine in Fort Thomas (above), you can tell her hometown remains close to her heart.

Lucie Rice

representing a wide variety of media, who will showcase their works at Art After Hours, 7-9 pm Friday, July 26 at Fort Thomas.

"I always love coming back to Fort Thomas, and am so grateful for the hometown support of my work," Ms. Rice said. "Such a good town, full of so many wonderful folks!

Reading is also a big passion of mine, so it is particularly exciting to be part of this show at the library."

Ms. Rice gained attention last year when her entry was selected as the winner of the ArtWorks/Cincinnati Zoo and Botanical Garden Fiona mural competition.

Ms. Rice is one of 14 artists,

Board of Trustees Meetings

The Campbell County Public Library's Board of Trustees meets at 5:30 pm on the third Wednesday each month on a rotating basis among all four branches. All board meetings are open to the public. No need to register. Here are the locations for upcoming board meetings:

July 17: Cold Spring

Aug. 21: Newport

Sept. 18: Carrico/Fort Thomas

We suggest

STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS: BETTER THE SECOND TIME AROUND

Harry Potter series by J.K. Rowling

It's gonna have to be Harry Potter. No description needed.

– Cassie Fischer, information services assistant, Carrico/Fort Thomas

The Giver by Lois Lowry

It was interesting to read it as an adult with a different perspective.

– Amy Carroll, adult programming coordinator

The Perks of Being a Wallflower by Stephen Chbosky

I have read this book three times, which is unheard of for me.

– Lisa Kuhn, patron services assistant, Newport

A Court of Thorns and Roses Series by Sarah J. Maas

I've made it a personal goal to reread this series every year, and I love it more and more each time.

– Danielle Turner, branch services assistant, Alexandria

To Kill A Mockingbird by Harper Lee

Something about reading this book again once you know what happens makes it even better, and much sadder.

– Danielle Heiert, patron services assistant, Cold Spring

The Awakening by Kate Chopin

One of the earliest American novels that focuses seriously on women's issues.

– Nina Frondorf, children's librarian, Newport

Daughter of Smoke and Bone by Laini Taylor

Taylor has mastered the sneaky art of foreshadowing. When I reread this book I found myself being blown away by her nearly hidden breadcrumb trail.

– Jessica Holloway, children's programmer, Newport

Nothing Like It In The World by Stephen Ambrose

I always liked Ambrose's histories, but I labored with this one as if I were building a transcontinental railroad myself and stalled out midway through. I'm glad I made a second run at it, because it tells a compelling story about how America became what we know today.

– Jim Pleshinger, PR specialist

NEW IN AUGUST! WALK & TALK BOOK CLUB

Peanut Gallery by Steve Casino (Inset: Rear view of Peanut Gallery)

ART AFTER HOURS

Now Ms. Rice's representation of the hippo/Cincinnati (and national) icon is on display in Cincinnati. The project honored more than just her Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky roots. "I have such a love and respect for animals and Mother Nature in general," she said. "While my new work (at Art After Hours) will not feature Fiona, I can promise there will be other amazing creatures involved."

Fort Thomas will also be represented by new and familiar faces alike. One new featured artist, Steve Casino of Fort Thomas, is known for incorporating peanuts into his some of his works, such as Peanut Gallery, a collection of dry-roasted rock star likenesses. And traditional Art After Hours favorite Dr. Jerry Warner, also of Fort Thomas, will showcase his expert woodturning.

Another Art After Hours tradition will be floral arrangements by Fort Thomas Florist and Greenhouses. Refreshments will be provided by Tailored Catering LLC and there will be live jazz music by the Phil DeGreg Trio.

All ages are welcome and there's no need to register.
