We Suggest

STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS: OUR FAVORITE BOOKS WITH ENVIRONMENTAL THEMES

World of Wonders by Aimee Nezhukumatathil

Aimee is an award-winning poet writing a collection of non-fiction essays on the strange and wonderful world of nature. Her personal accounts told in 20 essays are beautifully written and inspiring.

— Anne Fertitta, patron services supervisor, Cold Spring Branch

A Psalm for the Wild-Built by Becky Chambers

This is a cozy and optimistic imagining of a post-apocalyptic world, believe it or not. After robots gained autonomy, they left to live in the woods. Now the humans have gone back to the basics and live in harmony with the nature around them. The adventure starts when a robot and a tea monk become unlikely friends and begin traveling together and learning about each other and themselves.

— Katherine Sallee, children's services programmer, Alexandria Branch

Hoot by Carl Hiaasen

A middle grades novel, Hoot is set in Florida and follows newcomer Roy, who joins forces with friends to stop the construction of a pancake house that would destroy a colony of burrowing owls.

— Lisa Schienrenbeck, library courier

Secret of the Sirens by Julia Golding

This is a great middle-grade fantasy book with environmental themes. I love how many mythical creatures are featured and the idea of being a companion to a specific creature was so cool to child Steph (and, let's be honest, is still cool to adult Steph).

— Stephanie Daugherty, patron services assistant, Newport Branch

Celebrate El Día de los Libros

El Día de los Libros, also known as El Día, celebrates children, families, reading and cultures from around the world by emphasizing the importance of literacy for children of all linguistic and cultural backgrounds.

Head to the Cold Spring Branch on Saturday, April 29 to enjoy an afternoon of performances, fun activities and more. The schedule is as follows:

- 10-11 am: Take in an interactive dance performance by The Cultural Center of India.
- 11 am - 1 pm: Climb aboard the Book Bus and pick out a free read to take home.
- 11:30 am-1:30 pm: Get your face painted by the Cincinnati Circus!

- 1-2 pm: Closing out the festivities is a West African movement and music workshop led by Bi-Okoto.

There will also be crafts highlighting multicultural customs and traditions. Don't forget to grab a to-go bag filled with international snacks before you leave. No registration is required.

Hear from award-winning novelist Laurie Lico Albanese at April’s Signature Series, held at 7 pm Friday, April 28 at the Carrico/Fort Thomas Branch.

Albanese will discuss how other artists, such as Gustav Klimt and Nathaniel Hawthorne, inspire the way she crafts her books.

The presentation will be followed by a brief reception with light refreshments and a chance to get an autograph. Roebling Point Books will be available to purchase books on-site or you can check out Albanese’s titles from our catalog.

New! Signature Sneak Peek

If you’re interested in the event but are unable to attend in the evening, join the library for the afternoon Signature Sneak Peek at 2 pm on Friday, April 28. While shorter, the event offers a glimpse into the evening’s presentation.

About the Author

Based in Montclair, New Jersey, Albanese has written three novels and a memoir: Hester,

Stolen Beauty, Blue Suburbia and Lynlle by the Sea. Her stories have appeared in The New York Times, The Chicago Tribune and more.

Her books often dig into literary and art history. Take Hester, for example. The novel revisits Nathaniel Hawthorne’s famed protagonist to ask: “What if the heroine in The Scarlet Letter could tell her own story?”

Bestselling author Gillian Flynn (Gone Girl) recommended the historical fiction novel on The Today Show, saying that, “It’s a story about America itself, and the fury, righteousness and mercy in which it was formed.”

Stolen Beauty is set in two different time periods. In the dazzling world of 1900s Vienna, Adele Bloch-Bauer—young, beautiful, brilliant and Jewish—meets Gustav Klimt, an Austrian painter who was known for being a prominent leader in the Vienna Secession movement and his use of gold in painting. Forty years later, Adele’s niece, Maria, lives in Vienna as Nazis invade. Can her and her family escape the Nazis and preserve her aunt’s legacy?

“I adore libraries and bookstores, and each of my books has been chosen for the IndieBound list by independent booksellers,” reads Albanese’s author bio. “Other awards include a Hadassah-Brandeis Institute Research Grant, NJ State Council in the Arts Fellowship in Fiction Writing, and Catherine R. Dodge Foundation Fellowship to the Virginia Center for the Creative Arts.”

Register for Free Tickets

Free tickets are required. Register at www.cc-pl.org/signature-series.

Tickets will be mailed two weeks prior to the event. Tickets requested after that time will be available at the Patron Services desk on the evening of the performance. The Carrico/Fort Thomas Branch will close at 5 pm before to set up for the main event.

JOB FAIR

Stop by the Job and Career Resources Fair

Just in time for National Library Week, our Newport Branch is hosting a job fair on Wednesday, April 26 from 10 am to 3 pm as part of a statewide initiative with the Kentucky Department of Libraries and Archives. Here's a guide to get the most out of your job fair visit:

• 10 am - 2 pm: Head to the Kinsella Community Room for advice on how to cover tattoos, free interview attire and a voucher for a free haircut at Empire Beauty School in Florence, KY. First come, first served.

• 10 am - 2 pm: Head to the Kentucky Room for resume assistance and interview prep. Get help with building, revising and printing your resume (all for free!).

• 11 am - 3 pm: Visit with employers of all sizes with job openings, who will have tables set up in the President's Room.

Take-home job fair kits with additional resources will be available until supplies run out. No registration is required.

Flex Your Creativity at Play, Explore, Build

Take a trip to Dayton, Kentucky's Gil Lynn Park for Play, Explore, Build. Held on Saturday, April 15 from 10 am to noon, the annual family-friendly event is bent on creativity.

Aimed at kids of all ages, the program puts an emphasis on engineering by providing materials like Big Blue Blocks, Makedo Cardboard Construction tools, Rigamajig, Keva planks and more. What you build is up to your imagination! New this year are dinosaur bones. Make sure to stop by the Book Bus to pick out a free book to take home.

No registration is required. Gil Lynn Park is located at 203 Greendevil Lane, Dayton, KY 41074.
