We Suggest

STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS: Our Favorite Cozy Fantasy Novels

The Wishing Game by Meg Shaffer

The story is about Lucy, who enters a competition given by a reclusive children's author Jack Masterson. Jack holds a contest at his home on Clock Island where four lucky contestants will compete to win the only copy he has of his new book. This is a whimsical novel and includes a mastermind similar to Willy Wonka with a few plot twists.

— Amelia Norton, information services assistant, Carrico/Fort Thomas Branch

The Hobbit by J.R.R. Tolkien

The descriptions throughout the book make me want to be there alongside Bilbo and the dwarves. The food, in particular, is very well described; I get hungry every time I read it. Sure, there are parts of the story that aren't cozy, but that makes you appreciate the times when it is. Who wouldn't want to live in a hobbit hole?

— Chay Rust, patron services supervisor, Carrico/Fort Thomas Branch

Emily Wilde's Encyclopedia of Faeries by Heather Fawcett

This book is incredibly cozy, from the descriptions of nature and all the fantastical creatures to the way the author describes the food. Emily is a Cambridge professor who is creating an encyclopedia of all known faeries; she has a trip planned to observe a type that has never been documented in academic literature: The Hidden Ones.

— Morgan Lockard-Ellis, branch manager, Carrico/Fort Thomas Branch

The Starless Sea by Erin Morgenstern

A graduate student in Vermont finds a mysterious book hidden in the library stacks. As he reads, he uncovers a series of clues that lead him to a masquerade ball, a group of rather interesting characters, and a world of books and their guardians buried deep beneath our own. Every page felt like being wrapped up in a warm blanket.

— Stephanie Daugherty, patron services assistant, Newport Branch

Keep Dropping Your Drawers

Drop Your Drawers continues this December with the goal to raise clean pairs of underwear and socks for public schools in Campbell County.

Donations of socks and underwear can be any size and must be in their original packaging. Bras and t-shirts are also accepted. You can donate items at all CCPL branches. Every year, the library sees organizations big and small, individuals, families and friend groups donate. We appreciate each and every one of you.

Because parents are often unable to bring fresh underwear and socks to their children during school hours, children can miss crucial learning time in the classroom. Keeping centers' supplies stocked also allows them to redirect funding to provide other valuable resources.

To learn more, visit cc-pl.org/drop-your-drawers.

Have a Cozy Holiday at the Library, continued from the cover

It's officially December! Settle into your comfiest clothes, grab a mug of hot cocoa, wrap up in a blanket and plan your month at the library. Flip through this newsletter to see all that our branches have to offer and check out some highlights below.

Holiday Open Houses

The Alexandria, Carrico/Fort Thomas and Newport Branches are all hosting a Holiday Open House.

Head to the Newport Branch on Saturday, Dec. 2 from 11 am - 2 pm for a bookish afternoon. This year's open house takes inspiration from the Icelandic holiday tradition of "Jolabokaflokkur," where books are gifted and received on Christmas Eve. Then, of course, you read them! Patrons can have a family photo taken with the library's polaroid alongside enjoying a hot chocolate bar, music and crafts.

Also on Dec. 2 is the Alexandria Branch's Holiday Open House. Held noon to 4 pm, patrons can expect light snacks, refreshments, live music and photo opportunities with a trained therapy dog.

Carrico/Fort Thomas Branch's festivities on Saturday, Dec. 9 include a photo booth, scavenger hunt, crafts, treats and more. Jingle Babies, a festive story time, will kick off the day at 10 am. Enjoy music by the students of Highlands Band from 11:30 am-12:30 pm and drop in any time from 1-3 pm to decorate a cookie (while supplies last).

Make sure to visit Cold Spring Branch staff at the Winter Fest! Held at the Cold Spring Community Center (5686 East Alexandria Pike) from 2-5 pm, Cam will even be there. Enjoy crafts and other holiday activities. Don't forget to climb aboard the Book Bus and pick out a free read to take home and keep.

Cozy Crafts? Check!

In the mood to get crafty? We have several wintery crafts throughout the month across all four branches.

Spend an afternoon painting an ornament perfect for hanging on a tree at the Alexandria Branch on Dec. 5 for adults or the Cold Spring Branch on Dec. 7 for children. Both programs are at 4 pm.

Calling all gingerbread fans! Make a no-sew felt gingerbread person at the Newport Branch on Dec. 11 from 6-8 pm. Children can also drop in to make their own unique yarn ornaments on Dec. 7 anytime between 5:30-7 pm.

The Carrico/Fort Thomas Branch also has a stuffed animal craft—a cuddly penguin! Held on Dec. 13 at 4:30 pm, the program is for teens.

There's more festive fun in store at the library. Look for the snowflakes throughout the issue to plan your holiday season with us.

Choose Your Winter Vibe

Let the library play matchmaker... with books and movies, of course! Choose your winter vibe below and we'll tell you what to settle into this holiday season, hot cocoa in hand.

Ultimate Coziness

Hallmarks: Fuzzy socks, roaring fireplace, gatherings with loved ones, minimalist decor, crisp bundled-up walks

If you dream of coziness and comfort, check out The Little Book of Hygge by Meik Wiking. Hygge is a Danish term that refers to evoking a warm atmosphere of comfort and well-being through shared time with loved ones and life's simple pleasures. The term especially comes into play for getting through the long, cold months of winter.

Cheesy Holiday Romance Goodness

Hallmarks: Rewatching holiday movies for the umpteenth time, looking at lights/decorations, movie marathons at home

The holiday season is prime time for feel-good romantic comedies. If you love rewatching flicks like The Holiday or Love Actually—both are in our collection—every year, consider cozying up with Let It Snow. The YA book features three intertwined short stories set during a snowstorm in a small town by John Green, Maureen Johnson and Lauren Myracle. Head to Netflix afterward to watch the movie adaptation.

Hitting the Slopes... or the rink!

Hallmarks: Ice skating, winter hikes, skiwear, oversized puffer jackets, frolicking in the snow

If you're into winter sports, check out Icebreaker by Hannah Grave. The novel follows competitive figure skater Anastasia, whose eyes are set on landing a spot on Team USA. Then there's hockey captain Nathan. When their two teams have to share a rink, antics ensue—and maybe even romance.

Cable Knit Sweaters, Everywhere!

Hallmarks: Old money aesthetics, another cup of coffee, playing board games—especially Clue

Despite the murder mystery, Knives Out is strangely cozy—mostly because of the ensemble cast of characters' warm scarves and sweaters. I'm looking at you Chris Evans. Rewatchable and fun, it's the perfect movie to get lost in on a snowy, cold day.

Write a Letter & Make a Card!

Write a letter to Santa Claus and we'll take care of delivering it to the North Pole. Drop it off by Friday, Dec. 15 so we can get it to Ol' Saint Nick in time for the big day. Include your full return address and name so Santa can write back.

We have everything you need to make a letter; materials are located in the children's section at each branch.

While you're at it, you can also participate in Cards for Seniors, which puts handmade cards into the hands of local seniors. Use provided materials to make cheerful cards and we'll take care of the rest.
